

Rafal Martin

I arrived at the UK with my family in 2007. Soon after the arrival my daughter joined Milton Primary school.

In May 2010 I joined the governing body in order to provide a link between the school and other families with English as a second language. I am on the Curriculum and Achievement Committee.

I am a software engineer in the mobile telecommunications industry. In my spare time I design software for improving learning efficiency so children can learn more in less time.
